

WGCU PROGRAM GUIDE for JULY 2018

Inside WGCU

by Rick Johnson
WGCU General Manager

WGCU has your summertime solutions

It's July in Southwest Florida and that means several things: It's hot. It rains just about every day. And we're in the second month of hurricane season.

WGCU has solutions for you.

You can escape the heat and the rain with a full roster of inspiring entertainment, outlined here. As you know, we made the difficult decision to stop printing Expressions magazine after the June issue, but you will find the primetime TV lineup and some news from WGCU here. We are committed to continuing our dialogue with you in many ways - through our website, Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, by phone and regular mail. You can download this TV guide from our website and sign up for our e-newsletter at wgcu.org/expressions.

And although we don't really want to think about hurricanes, rest assured that as a member of the Florida Public Radio Emergency Network, WGCU FM is THE local source for information before, during and after a major storm. In fact, we just won a National Murrow Award for our coverage of Hurricane Irma last year.

If you need to contact someone about this mailer - for example, if your address is changing - call Jessica Trueblood at 239-590-2507 (or email her at jtrueblood@wgcu.org). Our mailing address is 10501 FGCU Blvd. S., Fort Myers, FL 33965-6565. ■

Food Flirts Make Debut

Cookbook authors and culinary queens Marilyn and Sheila Brass are passionate food explorers of a certain age who star in a new six-episode series on PBS.

The Boston-based women “flirt” their way into chefs’ kitchens to uncover ethnically unique and delicious foods, which they then use to experiment with recipes to create cross-cultural mashups like pastrami ramen noodle kugel, baklava crust milk tart, curried golden raisin and cashew rugelach, and “Bunny Chow” pasticcio bread bowls with turmeric hollandaise.

Catch the first episode of the “Food Flirts” brand of unscripted reality on WGCU TV Friday, July 28 at 10 p.m. (re-airs at 10:30 pm). ■

WGCU Wins National Murrow Award for Hurricane Coverage

WGCU FM is proud of its most recent honor: a national Edward R. Murrow award from the Radio Television Digital News Association in the Breaking News category for its coverage during Hurricane Irma.

The RTDNA Edward R. Murrow Awards are among the most prestigious in broadcast and digital news.

The Radio Television Digital News Association has been honoring outstanding achievements in electronic journalism with the Edward R. Murrow Awards since 1971. Award recipients demonstrate the spirit of excellence that Murrow set as a standard for the profession of broadcast and digital journalism.

A video compilation of Irma coverage by WGCU is available at news.wgcu.org/post/wgcu-news-wins-2018-national-murrow-award ■

Give Books, Support Literacy

As part of PBS's The Great American Read project, WGCU is collecting new or gently used books for adults, teens and children at various sites in Southwest Florida. The books will be given to families at the Guadalupe Center in Immokalee in September. But why not get them together and drop them off now? (Think Marie Kondo and "Tidy." Simplify life. Share the love of reading.) Find a list of drop-off locations and other information at wgcu.org/tgar.

If you haven't heard of this project yet, The Great American Read is a campaign by PBS to have American people choose their favorite novel from a list of 100 picked in an opinion poll of about 7,200 people. WGCU is sponsoring a vote to determine Southwest Florida's favorite book, too. So donate and vote! ■
